Hares: Fungus, St Blow Job, Butt Cycle & Good Ride

phuket-hhh.com

Bunnyken Pis opened her super steward spot by icing Manneken Pis while politely thanking the hares for their brilliant run, taking her time of course. BP called in flash Tequila Slapper in to show how effective her see-food diet has been.

Then, choosing 2 couples to compete in 'straw sex' the girls had a bottle holding a straw placed between their thighs and keeping hands behind backs walk to the man then tip their bottle into the bottle held between the guys thighs to transfer the straw. The circle became an absolute riot of fun watching a lot of new and innovative sex moves played out before their eyes. Well done Bunnyken Pis, please be steward again soon.

Today's laager was a new find giving us access to an area filled with research plantations, rolling hills, water courses and waterfalls gushing from the rain the night before. Respecting the cleanliness of this large area the hares, instead of dropping the typical 7 kg – 10 kg of paper on the ground marking the trail, used orange-colored strips of paper stapled to plant leaves and grasses which were very easy to see into the distance. Several runners said it was nice to finally enjoy the views rather than staring at the ground. The hares said they'll return and remove their markers, essentially erasing our footprint entirely. Well done hares and we hope to see more eco-friendly trails in the future.

We had about 5 virgins, including a child, invited in for our proper welcoming. Someone became a bit anxious and dashed in with a bucket of ice water they threw on the kid. Not well accepted by the circle Invisible Man and Fungus were blamed, iced and a large bucket of ice water dumped over their heads.

With such great trails Run Offenses were few and scant. The Mighty Quim called Shagarazzi and Manneken Pis in for down-downs after TMQ saw them with their shirts tucked into their shorts! WTF! Jaws updated us that as Gorgeous was transferred from BKK hospital to Vachira the last words heard from Gorgeous as he was wheeled in were 'what's the charge?'. Obviously he's getting better.

Super Good Run called as darkness set in and the GM and fire-flies lit up. Circle closed.
