Hares: St. Blow Job, Fungus & Butt-Cycle

phuket-hhh.com

Outstanding Hares St. Blow Job, Fungus and Butt-Cycle gave us another great exposure to the exceptionally beautiful jungle hillsides in Ban Para. For those that don't know, this area has massive triple-canopy trees with seemingly endless drainage ravines filled with bamboo, vines and waterfalls still gushing from a big rain the night before. Locals cultivate patches in the jungle so runners would suddenly pop into groves of durian or sataw. The hares said they had seen a 2+ meter cobra hunting along the stream only meters from the laager. Evidence for what is now coming out of the jungle was visible right at our laager where the girls were selling bamboo root, sataw, som quai, coconuts and even several very spicy soups ready to take home to eat. Lucky Lek was even giving away bags of sweet star-fruit he'd just collected from his home garden. Edible nature was all around.

Steward Chaser Lucky Lek lamented to the circle that once again his steward had made a last minute cancellation, for the 2nd time, so he and Fungus did a quick fill-in. After Fungus gave a few down-downs to his victims LL came in to have Fungus read a joke from his phone with print so small that LL, with great effort, had to hold his own glasses at some funny angle for Fungus to make out the words. It took 3 attempts for Fungus to reach the punch line but just then the phone rang and LL snatched it away from Fungus, stepping away to take a lottery-number booking, which became the best part of their spot. Well done guys for jumping in and getting the job done, again showing us all even idiots can do this job, which means a lot of hashers qualify, so don't be shy about volunteering to do a spot.

Earned shirts awarded today became a steward spot in itself. After Wilma awarded Tulips his 333 Shirt Scammer was stripped and awarded a 25-Runs shirt. Fungus quickly entered calling back in Wilma and GM Not Long Enough, then Ultimate Fucking Cunt who was wearing the Virgin Hare shirt given him a few weeks earlier. Fungus called in Good Jobs asking Wilma and the GM to take her shirt off to prepare her for a new shirt long overdue in coming to her. Off came her shirt while Fungus told the story behind receiving it today and not when she earned it months ago. GJ asked Fungus to help get her one, especially if it could be like like UFC was wearing. Now she was dancing around covering herself, begging for her new shirt as Fungus went on.

Well Good Jobs, here's your shirt nicely personalized showing her name, the run number and date earned. Lots of complements came for the improved hare showing on the back (plus a tiny mushroom) and the original PH3 shirt front showing the Thai flag. Well done Good Jobs for volunteering to Hare, and enjoy finally getting your shirt.

The circle pretty much ran itself with lots of laughter. The sunlight filtering down through the hillside jungle and rubber-tree canopy gave everyone a relaxing view no matter where they stood or sat making a perfect day even better. What a great example of a great hashing day!

Virgins were iced & departers sent off then hares called in. Again Manneken Pis worked the circle into finally deciding that Fungus should get Hash Shit for having given the horn and pink paper to Cock Tastes Good, thus once again showing PH3 doesn't need to feel bound to truths or honesty. (There were only 2 checks and one was 34 meters!!). No worries, a great run it was.
